

GATWICK AIRPORT DETAILED MOVEMENT and NIGHT PERIOD ANALYSIS BY AIRLINE OPERATOR MARCH 2025

Appended below is my regular monthly detailed report summarising both the daily movements at Gatwick and details of actual night period movements by airline for the month of February 2025. These are recorded from official data each day online on The Original Gatwick Spotters List.

With March being the final month of the Winter Season, the weekly movement figures were fairly stable at around 4,540 – with an average of 654 per day. This compared to February's figure of 624 per day but only a small increase in March 2024's average of 645. It was still somewhat less than the pre-Covid 2019 average of 731 per day, giving an 89% recovery rate which was only slightly up on February's recovery rate of 88%. Whilst one might have expected traffic levels would, by now, have recovered from the Covid impact, it will be the Summer Season's figures that would be more indicative of how Gatwick is actually doing.

As to Night Movements, full details for the month are, as always, provided and this month it is noted that the overall level of night movements increased month on month and that early morning departures were still materially above the equivalent numbers in 2019.

It is hoped that these analyses will assist in making informed representations in regard to the current regulatory consultations and committees.

Overall Summary of Movements.

Appendix 1 shows the numbers of movements each week since July 2021 showing the steady, but slowing, recovery in weekly movements. By comparison, in March 2019, the average weekly movements were 5,116 – indicating that Gatwick is still only operating at 89% of pre-pandemic levels.

Appendix 2 shows a daily movement count for each airline. EasyJet still predominates and again averaged just over 300 flights a day in March (though in March 2019 it was operating about 315 per day). In looking back to 2024, while Gatwick has gained a few new carriers – Singapore, Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan as long-haul airlines (and with GulfAir of Bahrain commencing at the end of March) and with SkyAlps (Italy) as the only new short haul carrier. But, other significant airlines have departed – notably long-haul carriers JetBlue, WestJet and Delta and it remains to be seen if any actually return during the next few months. It is also noted that various European airlines including Aer Lingus, Lufthansa, ITA (Alitalia), Croatia and Atlantic (Faroes) also no longer operate into Gatwick. While Aer Lingus Regional have recently commenced a daily service with a twin-prop ATR-72, this is simply on behalf of British Airways and operates under a BA flight number. One will have to see when the summer season kicks in, if Gatwick is actually recovering its traffic levels.

As mentioned in our previous report, the Northern Runway project has been kicked down the road with the Secretary of State delaying a final decision until October, although indicating that she would be minded to approve subject to some further undertakings by Gatwick. But, by then, the prospects of Heathrow's potential third runway will perhaps be more defined and it will also be interesting to see what impact the agreed expansion of both Luton and London-City might have in diverting traffic which might otherwise have been Gatwick's. The present Government seems determined to support expansion and growth at all airports, but one does have to question whether there will actually be the increased passenger demand to support all such expansion.

Analysis of Night Period Flights

Appendix 3 below provides details of all movements by airline and time during the Night Period from 2300 to 0659; including the 'core' period of 2330 to 0559 where the numbers of movements are, at least in theory, subject to regulatory capping (there remains controversy as to a number of mechanisms which allow flights in excess of the cap).

In the period from 2300 to 0659; the hourly figures (half-hourly for 2300 and wef 0500) were as follows for March (February in brackets):

	Arrivals	Departures
2300-2329	189 (156)	6 (4)
2330-2359	87 (53)	5 (0)
0000-0059	80 (55)	0 (2)
0100-0159	67 (48)	4 (2)
0200-0259	33 (40)	1 (0)
0300-0359	23 (11)	1 (0)
0400-0459	45 (40)	0 (0)
0500-0529	46 (43)	0 (0)
0530-0559	59 (52)	38 (45)
0600-0629	92 (92)	342 (273)
0630-0659	114 (105)	362 (294)
Totals	835 (695)	759 (620)
Core Period	440 (342)	49 (49)

Although March had three more days than February, arrivals in the Night Period (2330-0559) in March were still higher (at 26.9 per night) than those in February (24.8 per night). Departures were also up in the Night Period at 24.5 per night (February was 22.1 per night) and again, we must note the continuing significant increase in early morning departures. Arrivals in the Core Night Period were also proportionately up at an average of 14.2 per night (February was 12.2 per night).

Comparisons with 2019/20 (pre-Covid)

While there have been, as previously related, some significant operator changes between pre-Covid and today, the overall mix is not dissimilar with still a heavy concentration on short-haul low-fare European flights; hence we no longer publish detailed pre-Covid information but simply extract the summarised numbers. Details are available on request.

First, looking at total movements for equivalent four weeks, we see this for March:

	2019	2024	2025	Net Recovery 2019/2025
Week One	5095	4397	4538	89.1%
Week Two	5105	4457	4538	88.9%
Week Three	5094	4457	4524	88.8%
Week Four	5109	4601	4564	89.3%
Totals [4 weeks]	20403	17912	18164	89.0%
Totals [full month]	22659	20012	20269	89.4%

The overall traffic recovery levels from pre-Covid in the month was thus 89%, 1% up on the level shown in February.

In regard to Night Movements, we compare the current month with the equivalent both in March 2019 and in March 2024.

March:	Arrivals			Departures
	2019	2024	2025	2019	2024	2025
2300-2329	269	206	189	26	11	6
2330-2359	154	129	87	4	4	5
0000-0059	85	143	80	6	1	0
0100-0159	55	49	67	0	1	4
0200-0259	24	15	33	3	0	1
0300-0359	25	15	23	20	1	1
0400-0459	27	20	45	3	0	0
0500-0529	59	22	46	1	2	0
0530-0559	48	61	59	30	37	38
0600-0629	149	86	92	231	267	342
0630-0659	110	119	114	369	315	362
Totals	1005	865	835	693	639	759
Core Night	477	454	440	67	46	49

This comparison shows that whilst the number of night arrivals in March 2025 were somewhat less than the equivalent pre-Covid level; although in comparing the Core Night Period arrivals, it was proportionately slightly higher (at 92.2%) than the level of recovery.

The overall level of night departures was, however, also materially up on both 2019 and 2024 figures with a continued trend in the increase in the 0530 to 0629 period, with EasyJet still forming the majority of the early morning departures.
