

GATWICK AIRPORT
DETAILED MOVEMENT and NIGHT PERIOD ANALYSIS BY AIRLINE OPERATOR
SEPTEMBER 2024

Appended below is my regular monthly detailed report summarising both the daily movements at Gatwick and details of actual night period movements by airline for the month of September 2024. These are based on official Eurocontrol sources as downloaded and recorded each day online on The Original Gatwick Spotters List.

With August the peak season and September the last of the summer season, there was a relatively modest reduction in the aggregate number of movements with the average daily movements during September 2024 being 853 (August was 860). The equivalent in September 2019 was 873 per day – hence Gatwick showed a 97.7% recovery against pre-pandemic levels (the August figure was 94.7%); however, 2019s figures were reduced by both a British Airways strike and the collapse of Thomas Cook. The underlying recovery levels in terms of movements in still likely to be about 95%.

As to Night Movements, full details are, as always, provided and this month the level of night movements were broadly similar in comparison with both August and with pre-pandemic levels as adjusted for the reduced number of movements in aggregate. But, once again we continue to highlight the significant increase in early morning departures in the 0500-0559 period in comparison with 2019.

It is hoped that these analyses will assist in making informed representations in regard to the current regulatory consultations and committees.

Overall Summary of Movements.

Appendix 1 shows the numbers of movements each week since July 2021 with this month's movements being an average of 853 per day; down from August's figure of 860 per day and still 97.7% below the equivalent level of pre-pandemic movements (and note that 2019 was adversely impacted by strikes etc).

Appendix 2 shows a daily movement count for each airline with EasyJet continuing to dominate operations at Gatwick. Again, little has changed month on month on the short-haul services, although Atlantic Airways (Faroes) which had been operating twice a week did not return this month. A few other carriers (eg Turkish and Azores Airlines) showed a steady reduction in services during the month.

In the long-haul arena, again little change although Norse Atlantic (hitherto 5 services a day have reduced their level to 3 or 4 a day) and the Canadian Air Transat numbers are also down. With the change from Summer to Winter season, we expect to more material changes next month.

Analysis of Night Period Flights

Appendix 3 below provides details of all movements by airline and time during the Night Period from 2300 to 0659; including the 'core' period of 2330 to 0559 where the numbers of movements are, at least in theory, subject to regulatory capping (there remains controversy as to a number of mechanisms which allow flights in excess of the cap).

In the period from 2300 to 0659; the hourly figures (half-hourly for 2300 and wef 0500) were as follows for September (August 2024 in brackets):

	Landings	Take-offs
2300-2329	346 (385)	69 (66)
2330-2359	376 (362)	24 (52)
0000-0059	509 (509)	20 (34)
0100-0159	338 (350)	7 (14)
0200-0259	299 (288)	1(4)
0300-0359	126 (139)	1 (2)
0400-0459	78 (93)	1 (3)
0500-0529	22 (10)	44 (53)
0530-0559	15 (13)	273 (292)
0600-0629	114 (142)	409 (448)
0630-0659	211 (206)	400 (468)

Arrivals in the Night Period in September were broadly at the same levels to those in August (allowing for a shorter month) with arrivals aggregating 2434 (as against 2497 in August) – an average of 81.1 per night (August: 80.5). Night Period departures however were a little lower in comparison with the previous month and totalled 1249 (August - 1436) an average of 41.6 per night as against the August average of 46.3 per night.

Comparisons with 2019 (pre-Covid)

Appendices 4 and 5 set out the equivalent data for Gatwick movements pre-pandemic so one can compare both the extent to which Gatwick has recovered and also to illustrate what has materially changed so to assist in considering the possible future traffic movements. While there have been, as previously related, some significant operator changes between 2019 and today, the overall mix is not dissimilar with still a heavy concentration on short-haul low-fare European flights.

First, looking at total movements for equivalent weeks, we see this for September (2019/2024):

Week One: 6309/5961 Week Two: 5954/6034 Week Three: 6147/5951 Week Four: 6059/5888

The overall traffic recovery levels were thus 94.5%; 101.3%; 96.8% and 97.1% in comparison with the equivalent pre-pandemic period. (It is worth noting however, that there were major traffic disruptions due to a British Airways strike in the second week in 2019 which distorts the figures)

In regard to Night Movements, we compare the current month with the equivalent in 2019 and in 2023.

	Landings			Take-offs
September:	2019	2023	2024	2019	2023	2024

2300-2329	371	346	346	87	76	69
2330-2359	358	370	376	40	34	24
0000-0059	482	557	509	24	24	20
0100-0159	376	410	338	8	7	7
0200-0259	219	294	299	6	3	1
0300-0359	120	151	126	1	2	1
0400-0459	46	61	78	7	4	1
0500-0529	25	22	22	11	21	44
0530-0559	28	10	15	134	238	273
0600-0629	134	108	114	411	429	409
0630-0659	158	147	211	518	456	400
Totals	2319	2476	2434	1247	1294	1249
Core Night	1654	1875	1763	231	333	371

This comparison shows that the number of night arrivals in September 2024 were somewhat higher than the 2019 figure and very similar to 2023. The overall level of night departures was, on the same basis, similar to the 2019 figures and slightly down on last year. Departures in 2024 were again notably higher during the core night period – once again continuing and indeed increasing the trend towards very early morning departures, predominantly by EasyJet.

The Night Flight regime is still awaiting the delayed outcome of the review by the DfT although its Consultation document favoured 'kicking the can down the road' pending both an analysis of ongoing recovery trends as well as consideration of reports on the health impact of sleep disturbance caused by night noise. Obviously, the noise levels of departing aircraft will generally be likely to cause more sleep disturbance and hence the significant increase in the 0500-0559 period continues to be identified as a matter of concern.
