

GATWICK AIRPORT DETAILED MOVEMENT and NIGHT PERIOD ANALYSIS BY AIRLINE OPERATOR MAY 2024

Appended below is my regular monthly report summarising details of the daily movements at Gatwick together with details of actual night period movements by airline for the month of May 2024. These are based on official Eurocontrol sources as downloaded and recorded each day online on The Original Gatwick Spotters List.

We are now into the second month of the 'Summer Season' and there has been the inevitable increase in the aggregate number of movements which follows through into a similar significant increase in Night Flights. We compare the various figures both to the previous year and also to 2019, the pre-Covid year.

The average daily movements during May 2024 was 784 (April was 733). The equivalent in May 2019 was 841 per day – hence Gatwick is still showing only a 93% recovery against pre-pandemic levels (although this is an increase against the equivalent recovery level in April which was 91%).

As to Night Movements, full details are, as always, provided and also still show that, taking into account the lower overall numbers, there is still a disproportionate increase in the level of night movements in comparison with pre-pandemic levels. One would highlight the increase in early morning departures and particularly in the 0500-0559 period (which is up by 232% in comparison with 2019).

It is hoped that these analyses will assist in making informed representations in regard to the current regulatory consultations and committees.

Overall Summary of Movements.

Appendix 1 shows the numbers of movements each week since June 2021 and shows this month's movements had increased to an average of 784 per day; up from April's figure of 733 per day but still 7% below the equivalent level of pre-pandemic movements.

Appendix 2 shows a daily movement count for each airline. Most of the increase in numbers can be attributed to based short-haul leisure airlines. EasyJet continues to dominate operations at Gatwick but towards the end of the month British Airways was showing increases in services and notably are chartering in small twin-prop ATRs from its associated airline, Aer Lingus Regional. Aer Lingus itself pulled out in March, reportedly because it could not compete with Ryanair, although that low-cost airline has not increased its regular 10 a day services to Gatwick. Tui have substantially increased activity, mainly by using aircraft chartered in from other operators. The Polish carrier Enter Air, Turkey's Corendon and Freebird and Croatia Airlines are also now back on a regular basis. The only new 'regular' this month is the Italian SkyAlps using small twin-prop Dash Eights twice a week to Bolzano.

One downsizing apparent is with Lufthansa, which commenced Gatwick services in April 2023 and increased them to 2 a day in September, predominantly with A.320s, but have now reduced their services and regularly now use the smaller A.319 and the CRJ aircraft.

On long-haul, we mentioned the return of WestJet in our April report but otherwise nothing much has changed this month other than the Canadian Air Transat upping their flights a little and Turkmenistan increasing from one to two services a week. The substantial reduction in Titan Airways flights shown is simply because most of their fleet now operates for Tui.

Analysis of Night Period Flights

Appendix 3 below provides details of all movements by airline and time during the Night Period from 2300 to 0659; including the 'core' period of 2330 to 0600 where the numbers of movements are, at least in theory, subject to regulatory capping (there remains controversy as to a number of mechanisms which allow flights in excess of the cap).

In the period from 2300 to 0659; the hourly figures (half-hourly for 2300 and wef 0500) were as follows for May (April 2024 in brackets):

	Landings	Take-offs
2300-2329	393 (400)	19 (21)
2330-2359	312 (217)	6 (8)
0000-0059	348 (210)	8 (7)
0100-0159	240 (171)	2 (4)
0200-0259	159 (88)	1 (1)
0300-0359	64 (27)	0 (2)
0400-0459	39 (37)	2 (1)
0500-0529	12 (7)	35 (34)
0530-0559	10 (3)	288 (263)
0600-0629	123 (104)	448 (405)
0630-0659	200 (188)	465 (454)

Arrivals in the Night Period substantially increased in the month with arrivals aggregating 1900 (as against 1452 in April) – an average of 61.3 per night, up nearly 27% in comparison with the average of 48.4 per night in April (March was only 27.9 arrivals per night). Departures on the other hand were broadly similar and totalled 1274 (April - 1200) an average of 41 per night as against the April average of 40 per night. As the above table illustrates, these increases continue to be predominately late night arrivals and early morning departures. Significant is the continuing substantial increase in the number of arrivals during the 'small hours' in the 'core' night period and which is currently subject to a DfT review.

Comparisons with 2019 (pre-Covid)

Appendices 4 and 5 set out the equivalent data for Gatwick movements pre-pandemic so one can compare both the extent to which Gatwick has recovered and also to note what has materially changed to assist in considering the possible future traffic movements. While there have been, as previously related, some significant operator changes between 2019 and today, the overall mix is not dissimilar with still a heavy concentration on short-haul European flights.

First, looking at total movements for equivalent weeks, we see this for May (2019/2024):

Week One: 5723/5304 Week Two: 5736/5338 Week Three: 5847/5404 Week Four: 5995/5603

The overall traffic recovery levels were thus fairly consistent at 93%; 93%; 92% and 93% in comparison with the equivalent pre-pandemic period.

In regard to Night Movements, we compare the current month with the equivalent in 2019 and in 2023.

Totals	1946	2096	1900	1209	1099	1274
Core Night	1263	1474	1184	172	211	342

This comparison shows that the number of night arrivals in April 2024 were broadly in line with the 2019 figure (and higher if adjusted by the 7% reduction in total movements) and that the 2023 figures continued to be understood as a blip due to external reasons. However, the level of night departures was 5% higher than the 2019 figures and 98% higher during the core period - again primarily related to very early morning departures, predominantly by EasyJet.

The Night Flight regime is currently under review by the DfT (the Consultation period has ended) although its Consultation document favoured 'kicking the can down the road' pending both an analysis of ongoing recovery trends as well as consideration of reports on the health impact of sleep disturbance caused by night noise. Many consultees are understood to have drawn attention to the post-pandemic increases notwithstanding that the overall movement numbers are still significantly down.
