

GATWICK AIRPORT DETAILED MOVEMENT and NIGHT PERIOD ANALYSIS BY AIRLINE OPERATOR JULY 2023

Appended and below is my regular monthly report summarising details of the daily movements at Gatwick together with details of actual night period movements by airline for the month of July 2023. There are based on official Eurocontrol sources as downloaded and recorded each day online on The Original Gatwick Spotters List.

Now well into the 'summer season', the number of flights continue to both increase in actual terms as well as getting back towards pre-pandemic levels at about 95% of the equivalent in 2019. This Report details the equivalent movements in the same month in 2019 so as to highlight changes, significant or otherwise. As to Night Movements, full details are provided and indicate that there continue to be material increases over pre-pandemic levels and, in particular arrivals after midnight through to the small hours. It is hoped that these analyses will assist in making informed representations in regard to the current regulatory consultations and committees.

Overall Summary of Movements.

Appendix 1 shows the numbers of movements each week since June 2021 and shows this month's movements averaged 843 per day – an increase from the average May figures of 807 per day. Pre-pandemic, the average in July 2019 was about 887 movements per day. This means that Gatwick in July was running at 95% of its pre-pandemic traffic levels. Also provided are known overall weekly figures into August, which continue to show a further increase.

Appendix 2 shows a daily movement count for each airline. EasyJet continues to dominate the numbers, operating little short of one of every two flights in and out of Gatwick. There were few notable changes in July but we do highlight the extent to which the regular carriers (notably BA and Tui) continue the use of leased in aircraft to maintain services. Otherwise, the newly-based long haul Norse Atlantic continued to add services but still operates less than half the number of flights of its (failed) predecessor. There has also been a steady increase in the flights by the various Turkish carriers. China Eastern is now back on a regular 4 flights a week to match its pre-pandemic services (but we have not seen Cathay Pacific return with their former daily service).

Analysis of Night Period Flights

Appendix 3 below provides details of all movements by airline and time during the Night Period from 2300 to 0659; including the 'core' period of 2330 to 0600 where the numbers of movements are, at least in theory, subject to regulatory capping.

In the period from 2300 to 0659; the hourly figures (half-hourly for 2300 and wef 0500) were as follows for July (June 2023 in brackets):

	Landings	Take-offs
2300-2329	343 (324)	111 (51)
2330-2359	393 (349)	52 (48)
0000-0059	659 (566)	45 (59)
0100-0159	443 (355)	15 (7)
0200-0259	345 (308)	7 (2)
0300-0359	208 (163)	2 (1)
0400-0459	88 (71)	1 (0)
0500-0529	29 (22)	16 (14)
0530-0559	19 (11)	215 (210)
0600-0629	108 (98)	427 (416)
0630-0659	129 (140)	465 (444)

This year, in every month, we are seeing a significant increase in arrivals during the Night Period with an aggregate of 2,764 landings (up from 2,407 in June) – an average of 89.2 per night as against an average of 80.2 per night in June. As the above table illustrates, these increases are predominately post-midnight and into the small hours. In terms of operators, a disproportionate number of these flights are down to Wizzair and Tui. There is also a notable increase in late night departures. Of the three main London airports, Gatwick has by far the largest Government allowance for night movements for the Summer period but all the figures would suggest even this allowance is likely to be significantly exceeded. Adverse weather, air traffic control strikes and other regular disruptions will no doubt be blamed but the limits applied are currently being reviewed by the DfT so we await their thoughts.

Comparison with 2019

Appendices 4 and 5 set out the equivalent data for Gatwick movements pre-pandemic so one can compare both the extent to which Gatwick has recovered and also to note what has materially changed to assist in considering the possible future traffic movements. Quite clearly, there are many significant differences between what we see currently and the equivalent period in 2019.

First, looking at total movements for equivalent weeks, we see this for July (2019/2023):

Week One: 6204/5916 Week Two: 6146/5900 Week Three: 6262/5901 Week Four: 6232/5859

The overall traffic recovery levels were thus 95%; 96%; 94% and 96% in comparison with the equivalent pre-pandemic period. While life has perhaps returned to a level of normality, the overall economic climate combined with lifestyle changes both in business and leisure travel all suggest that predicted future growth may be optimistic. While the Northern Runway project may ease congestion at peak times, the jury is out on whether the forecast significant expansion in flights by the end of this decade will actually occur.

As to the Night Period regime, it is also interesting to see how the statistics with 2019 compare, and remember that overall traffic movements in July 2023 were 95% of 2019 levels.

July:	Landings		Take-offs
	2019	2023	2019	2023
2300-2329	336	343	109	111
2330-2359	395	393	74	52
0000-0059	539	659	75	45
0100-0159	373	443	21	15

0200-0259	309	345	8	7
0300-0359	161	208	6	2
0400-0459	69	88	3	1
0500-0529	33	29	11	16
0530-0559	36	19	129	215
0600-0629	139	108	441	427
0630-0659	262	129	546	465

This comparison shows that the number of night movements, particularly arrivals in the period after midnight and into the 'small hours', is higher than the levels experienced pre-pandemic and at a time when the overall numbers of flights are 5% lower. Overall movements during the 'core' night period in July 2023 were 2,537 as against 2,242 in 2019 – an increase of over 13%.

Equally of note is the increase in departures before 0600; the vast majority of which were by EasyJet.

As mentioned above, the Night Flight regime is currently under review by the DfT and we would hope that they are taking account of the current figures now that a level of normality has returned. We should hear further on this towards the end of the year.
