

GATWICK AIRPORT
DETAILED MOVEMENT and NIGHT PERIOD ANALYSIS BY AIRLINE OPERATOR
DECEMBER 2023

Appended below is my regular monthly report summarising details of the daily movements at Gatwick together with details of actual night period movements by airline for the month of December 2023. These are based on official Eurocontrol sources as downloaded and recorded each day online on The Original Gatwick Spotters List.

Movements increased in December in the lead up to Christmas and New Year holidays but had still not reached the similar levels pre-pandemic, although at about 95%, to an extent this reversed the downward trend indicated in November (which was 90%).

As to Night Movements, full details are provided and also still show that, notwithstanding there being less overall movements, there continues to be material increases of night movements over pre-pandemic levels and, in particular in late night arrivals and early morning departures in comparison with 2019.

It is hoped that these analyses will assist in making informed representations in regard to the current regulatory consultations and committees.

Overall Summary of Movements.

Appendix 1 shows the numbers of movements each week since June 2021 and shows this month's movements averaged 641 per day – up from November's average of 569 per day. Pre-pandemic, the average in December 2019 was about 675 movements per day, which means that Gatwick in December was running at 95% of its equivalent pre-pandemic traffic levels.

Appendix 2 shows a daily movement count for each airline. EasyJet continues to dominate the numbers and also accounts for the majority of the night movements with their early getaways and inevitably delayed arrivals of their final flight of the day. There has been little change in short haul flights although the previous regular Turkish carriers, Freebird and Corendon fizzled out in mid-November. On the other hand, the Polish carrier Enter Air ramped up their previously irregular services to thrice weekly. As in previous years, Jet2 operate winter services into Gatwick, mainly it is understood in support of the cruise trade; in summer months they concentrate on their Midlands and Northern bases.

On long-haul flights, we have seen the arrival of China Southern with a twice-weekly service (while it is a new carrier for Gatwick, we have not seen the return of Cathay Pacific and China Airlines, both regulars pre-pandemic). Qatar are also showing a slight increase in services, upping their daily flight to twice daily three times a week (although pre-pandemic they regularly operated three services a day). Another airline which has not returned is Kuwait-based Jazeera Airways, which had started to operate a daily service in 2019. It is also notable that the Canadian WestJet declined to operate services to Gatwick in the Winter Period, despite having a regular one/two flights a day in 2019.

Essentially, the sea-change we see between today and 2019 is that established carriers (such as British Airways and Virgin) have moved some or all of their services to Heathrow and have been replaced by an increase in low-cost carriers such as EasyJet and WizzAir.

Analysis of Night Period Flights

Appendix 3 below provides details of all movements by airline and time during the Night Period from 2300 to 0659; including the 'core' period of 2330 to 0559 where the numbers of movements are, at least in theory, subject to regulatory capping.

In the period from 2300 to 0659; the hourly figures (half-hourly for 2300 and wef 0500) were as follows for December (November 2023 in brackets):

	Landings	Take-offs
2300-2329	239 (183)	11 (5)
2330-2359	171 (109)	7 (4)
0000-0059	194 (122)	8 (7)
0100-0159	71 (25)	4 (2)
0200-0259	21 (8)	2 (0)
0300-0359	12 (13)	2 (1)
0400-0459	20 (17)	0 (0)
0500-0529	18 (9)	1 (1)
0530-0559	53 (46)	30 (34)
0600-0629	101 (108)	272 (178)
0630-0659	131 (117)	350 (237)

With the build-up to Christmas and the New Year, aggregate Night Period movements inevitably increased. Arrivals during the Night Period aggregated 1,031 landings (as against 757 in November) – an average of 33.3 per night as against an average of 25.2 per night in October and departures totalled 687 (as against 469 in November) – an average of 22.2 per night (November 15.6 per night)

As the above table illustrates, the increases are predominately late night arrivals and early morning departures.

Comparisons with 2019

Appendices 4 and 5 set out the equivalent data for Gatwick movements pre-pandemic so one can compare both the extent to which Gatwick has recovered and also to note what has materially changed to assist in considering the possible future traffic movements. Quite clearly, there continue to be significant differences between what we see currently and the equivalent period in 2019.

First, looking at total movements for equivalent weeks, we see this for December (2019/2023):

Week One: 4472/4317 Week Two: 4807/4629 Week Three: 5057/4723 Week Four: 4562/4275

The overall traffic recovery levels were thus 96%; 96%; 93% and 94% in comparison with the equivalent pre-pandemic period, which at an average of 95% shows that November's 90% was a blip and thus closer to October's 96%.

Then looking at the Night Period, we still see that despite lower overall traffic numbers, there is an increase in Night Period movements.

	Landings		Take-offs
	2019	2023	2019	2023
December:
2300-2329	256	239	46	11
2330-2359	130	171	12	7
0000-0059	108	194	5	8
0100-0159	45	71	2	4
0200-0259	24	21	0	2
0300-0359	22	12	5	2
0400-0459	23	20	1	0
0500-0529	54	18	1	1
0530-0559	71	53	13	30
0600-0629	134	101	178	272
0630-0659	120	131	309	350

This comparison shows that the number of night movements, particularly arrivals in the period after midnight and into the 'small hours', continues to be significantly higher than the levels experienced pre-pandemic and at a time when the overall numbers of flights are still lower. Overall movements during the 'core' night period (2330 to 0559), were 614 as against 516 in 2019 – an increase of some 19%, continuing a trend throughout 2023. Also, note the significant increase in early morning departures, mainly due to the increase in low cost carriers such as EasyJet needing to get away as soon as possible!

Overall, these various figures and trends still suggest that one could challenge the long-term growth forecasts suggested by Gatwick in their DCO application for the Northern runway, particularly when one also takes into account the various other issues which might have an impact on air travel. As mentioned above and previously, the Night Flight regime is also currently under review by the DfT and we would hope that they are taking account of the current figures now that a level of normality has returned. We should hear further on this in the near future.
