

GATWICK AIRPORT
DETAILED MOVEMENT and NIGHT PERIOD ANALYSIS BY AIRLINE OPERATOR
OCTOBER 2024

Appended below is my regular monthly detailed report summarising both the daily movements at Gatwick and details of actual night period movements by airline for the month of October 2024. These are based on official Eurocontrol sources as downloaded and recorded each day online on The Original Gatwick Spotters List.

For the first time since pre-pandemic, the aggregate number of movements in the month (and specifically in the final three weeks) has exceeded those in 2019. While the actual number of movements in October was, as would be expected, below those of the previous month, in comparison with October 2019, the average daily movements in the month was 100.7% of the 2019 baseline - 794 per day as against 788.

As to Night Movements, full details are, as always, provided and this month the level of night movements indicated that, as expected, the overall numbers were reducing particularly towards the month end but were perhaps surprisingly materially above the equivalent numbers in 2019. And, once again we continue to highlight the significant increase in early morning departures in the 0500-0559 period in comparison with 2019.

It is hoped that these analyses will assist in making informed representations in regard to the current regulatory consultations and committees.

Overall Summary of Movements.

Appendix 1 shows the numbers of movements each week since July 2021 with this month's movements being an average of 794 per day; down from September's figure of 853 per day but there was for the first time a small increase in comparison with the average movements in the equivalent month pre-pandemic.

Appendix 2 shows a daily movement count for each airline with EasyJet back to averaging more than 50% of operations at Gatwick. With the end of the summer season, a number of airlines have ceased or substantially reduced services. Three of the four North American airlines – WestJet, JetBlue and Delta have all ended their services and Air Transat is reduced to one daily service. The Sunday BA Cityflyer service, which may have been experimental, has ceased and other airlines no longer operating to Gatwick include ITA Airways (shortly expected to return to the traditional branding of Alitalia), Azores Airlines and Bulgaria Air. On the other hand, it looks as though the Greek Aegean Airlines had returned at the month end.

Analysis of Night Period Flights

Appendix 3 below provides details of all movements by airline and time during the Night Period from 2300 to 0659; including the 'core' period of 2330 to 0559 where the numbers of movements are, at least in theory, subject to regulatory capping (there remains controversy as to a number of mechanisms which allow flights in excess of the cap).

In the period from 2300 to 0659; the hourly figures (half-hourly for 2300 and wef 0500) were as follows for October (September 2024 in brackets):

	Landings	Take-offs
2300-2329	375 (346)	42 (69)
2330-2359	328 (376)	13 (24)
0000-0059	416 (509)	7 (20)
0100-0159	266 (338)	3 (7)
0200-0259	192 (299)	0 (1)
0300-0359	66 (126)	0 (1)
0400-0459	46 (78)	4 (1)
0500-0529	19 (22)	37 (44)
0530-0559	15 (15)	264 (273)
0600-0629	129 (114)	423 (409)
0630-0659	161 (211)	426 (400)

Movements in the Night Period in October were, as might be expected, significantly lower than those in September with arrivals aggregating 2013 (as against 2434 in September) – an average of 65.5 per night (September 81.1). Night Period departures however were less down in comparison with the previous month and totalled 1219 (September 1249) an average of 39.3 per night as against the September average of 41.6 per night.

Comparisons with 2019 (pre-Covid)

Appendices 4 and 5 set out the equivalent data for Gatwick movements pre-pandemic so one can compare both the extent to which Gatwick has recovered and also help illustrate what has materially changed so to assist in considering the possible future traffic movements. While there have been, as previously related, some significant operator changes between 2019 and today, the overall mix is not dissimilar with still a heavy concentration on short-haul low-fare European flights.

First, looking at total movements for equivalent weeks, we see this for October (2024/2019):
Week One: 5753/5831 Week Two: 5666/5562 Week Three: 5590/5559 Week Four: 5664/5590

The overall traffic recovery levels were thus 98.6%, 101.9%, 100.6% and 101.3% in comparison with the equivalent pre-pandemic period. This is the first time that weekly movements have exceeded the equivalent 2019 figures.

In regard to Night Movements, we compare the current month with the equivalent in 2019 and in 2023.

Totals	1668	1838	2013	1063	1159	1219
Core Night	1070	1230	1348	159	244	328

This comparison shows that the number of night arrivals in October 2024 were somewhat higher than both the 2019 and 2023 figures. In particular, one should note the increase in the 0000 to 0259 period.

The overall level of night departures was, on the same basis, also up on the 2019 and 2023 figures. Departures in 2024 during the core night period were now more than double those in 2019 – once again we note the continuing and indeed increasing trend towards very early morning departures in the 0500-0559 period, which are predominantly by EasyJet.

The Night Flight regime is still awaiting the delayed outcome of the review by the DfT although its Consultation document favoured 'kicking the can down the road' pending both an analysis of ongoing recovery trends as well as consideration of reports on the health impact of sleep disturbance caused by night noise. Obviously, the noise levels of departing aircraft will generally be likely to cause more sleep disturbance and hence the significant increase in the 0500-0559 period continues to be identified as a matter of concern.
