

GATWICK AIRPORT
DETAILED MOVEMENT and NIGHT PERIOD ANALYSIS BY AIRLINE OPERATOR
AUGUST 2025

Appended below is my regular monthly detailed report summarising both the daily movements at Gatwick and details of actual night period movements by airline for the month of August 2025. These are recorded from official data each day online on The Original Gatwick Spotters List.

Since August is the peak of the Summer Season, traffic levels increased as expected with average daily movements of 853 as against 838 in July (an increase of 1.83%); however, again this month, the average daily movements were lower than in 2024 – August 2024 averaged 860 per day. This continues to suggest that Gatwick’s movements, at least in numbers of flights, fell for the third month in a row in comparison with 2024. And, in comparison with pre-Covid 2019, when there was an average of 908 per day in August, the ‘recovery’ level was at 93.9% (and slightly lower than July’s level of 94.5%).

As to Night Movements, full details for the month are, as always, provided and this month there continues to be an increase in departures between 0500 and 0559 in comparison with 2024 and particularly in comparison with 2019. Overall night period departures in 2025 are still higher when compared to 2019, despite overall traffic numbers being down.

In the last few days, we now have a further but more modest third runway plan proposed for Heathrow and its expansion does seem to have the present Government’s backing, although neither scheme would seemingly come on stream until 2035 at the earliest. What is not known is how this would be likely to impact on the viability of Gatwick’s £2.3 billion expansion and Northern Runway project but one has to note that while post-Covid Heathrow has more than fully recovered, Gatwick’s traffic levels remain in decline.

It is hoped that these analyses will assist in making informed representations in regard to the current regulatory consultations and committees.

Overall Summary of Movements.

Appendix 1 shows the numbers of movements each week since July 2021 which illustrates the steady build-up in movements in the summer season but, as mentioned above, overall the numbers of movements in the month were actually lower than in 2024.

Appendix 2 shows a daily movement count for each airline. As always, EasyJet predominates and with an average of 399 flights a day it is slightly up on its July figures and still actually up in comparison with August 2019 (where it averaged 384 per day). Hence, once again this illustrates that since their service levels are essentially doing better than pre-Covid, it is the other traffic which has overall declined.

As to changes month on month, the only item of note is that Air India ceased operating into Gatwick; although this was not necessarily connected with its tragic accident in June. No new carriers have commenced services and indeed Delta has announced it will cease its daily service to New York in early September and will not be returning next year. British Airways has also ceased its New York services, although Gatwick retains its 25-year old plus fleet of ageing Boeing 777s in service.

Analysis of Night Period Flights

Appendix 3 below provides details of all movements by airline and by time during the Night Period from 2300 to 0659; including the ‘core’ period of 2330 to 0559 where the numbers of movements are, at least in theory, subject to regulatory capping (there remains controversy as to a number of mechanisms which allow flights in excess of the cap).

In the period from 2300 to 0659; the hourly figures (half-hourly for 2300 and wef 0500) were as follows for August (July in brackets):

|                    | Arrivals           | Departures         |

| Core Period | 1567 (1738) | 487 (464)   |

Night arrivals were slightly lower in August with the average number per night in July being 77.6 in comparison with July’s average of 79.8 despite a slight increase in overall movements. In relation to the core Night Period (2330-0559), the month of August also saw a reduction in the average number of such arrivals to 50.5 per night (compared to July’s 56.1).

On the other hand, as regards night departures, again there were increases this month with average daily night departures at 48.2 (July was 46.7 per night) and with core night period departures at 15.7 per night (July had 14.9).

Comparisons with 2019/20 (pre-Covid)

While there have been, as previous reports related, some significant operator changes between pre-Covid and today, the overall mix is not dissimilar with still a heavy concentration on short-haul low-fare European flights; hence we no longer publish detailed pre-Covid information but simply extract the summarised numbers. Details are always available on request.

First, looking at total movements for equivalent four weeks, we see this for August:

|                     | 2019  | 2024  | 2025  | Net Recovery 2019/2025 |
|---------------------|-------|-------|-------|------------------------|
| Week One            | 6356  | 6029  | 5972  | 94.0%                  |
| Week Two            | 6341  | 6001  | 5955  | 93.9%                  |
| Week Three          | 6356  | 6062  | 5967  | 93.9%                  |
| Week Four           | 6241  | 6059  | 5964  | 95.5%                  |
| Totals [4 weeks]    | 25294 | 24151 | 23858 | 94.3%                  |
| Totals [full month] | 28151 | 26724 | 26450 | 93.9%                  |

The overall traffic recovery levels from pre-Covid in the month was thus just under 94% - and also down 1% in comparison with August 2024.

In regard to Night Movements, we compare the current month with the equivalent both in August 2019 and in August 2024.

| Core Night | 1912 | 1764 | 1567 | 273  | 454  | 487  |

While night arrivals are somewhat lower than in 2019, there has been a notable increase in the level of Night Period departures in the early morning and notwithstanding the lower level of overall movements. Particularly notable is the significant increase of departures during the Core Night Period of 0500 to 0559, a trend that has become consistent in recent months.
